Jeffrey Gerlach of Charleston sprawls on Laidley track

Preparation for the 100-mile race was completed by the 27-year-old Gerlach on Monday, Oct. 20. He was in good shape and ready to go. He had been training hard for several weeks and was confident that he could complete the race. He was joined by several other runners, including Jim Koon, who was also competing in the race. The race started on Tuesday, Oct. 21, and was held on the Laidley track in Charleston, West Virginia. The race was a grueling test of endurance and speed, and Gerlach was one of the top finishers. He finished the race in 1:34:16, which was a personal best for him. He was very pleased with his performance and was looking forward to competing in more races in the future. The race was a great success for Gerlach and for the Laidley track. It was a great day for all the runners and spectators who attended the race. The race was a great example of the spirit of competition and the love of the sport.
